

CAMP OXY OFFICIALS TRAINING 2010

CAMP OXY has brought football officials free training in a live football format with much success. Now in 2010 we have arranged to expand this program to additional FOAs in the surrounding area to assist in creating a great venue to enhance football officiating skills and knowledge for newer and veteran officials.

These camps are designed for officials who strive to better themselves to obtain additional classroom and on-field officiating experience. This camp feature intense on-field and classroom training led by top-notch instructors from various local associations and others from different levels of officiating. The camps are held in conjunction with the Eagle Rock Football Team Camps, which will host over 16 different athletic teams this year.

The Camp OXY format combines classroom and field training sessions that are supported by the FOAs' instructional units with input and direction of the CFOA.
